Thank you to everyone who took the time to complete and return a questionnaire. I have indicated above how many people voted in each section. Here is some general information about the returns:- There were 21 returns. Not everyone made a mark against every question. In the question relating to “Life Format” one person made an alteration to the form to indicate that they didn't want any short poses. There are two sections above that I will report on as soon as I have had time to write out the comments.
